

CHANGE IS INEVITABLE

Message to Everyone and Everywhere, archangels, elemental and pawns
souls of distant realms,
and to the breathing Machinery Congress pumps as tears and barrable language,
Change is inevitable.
Mystical voice romanticizing the
unobtainable, hypnotism of sensationalism, Armies of incomprehensible prisons with sexless guards and soulless Jehovas pulling narcissist triggers dying happily speechless, Change in inevitable.
Capitalist cannibals kissing and hugging flags in ritual for generations with a godless religious momentum,
Change is inevitable.
Proud police duty inflicting gear parading fear,
tyrant racist pride drowning your despair
in your community,
Change is inevitable.
Corporate colossal drunks
compulsively toasting to the groaning stomachs
of their minimum wage employee's children,
Change is inevitable.
Allah, Yawhe, Elohim, Jehova, Jesus, Hari, Buddha, Ormazd, Zeus, Mother Earth, Self,
Brother's and Sisters, Universe,
Change is inevitable.
Change is inevitable as you are to me and to life.
The way we are born out of action,
which WILL take place today,
and MIRACLES which our words WILL cause.

JUAN CARDENAS

Juan Cardenas is a Musician and Poet that has been bleeding literature and melodies since the age of 13; his major influences are the Poets: Jim Morrison, Bob Dylan, Allen Ginsberg, Jack Kerouac, Federico Garcia Lorca, Sor Juana Inez de la Cruz, and Ocatvio Paz. Juan's philosophy about poetry, music, art, and generally life, revolve around the idea of Sound and Love, and how rhythm exists in spoken word the same way it dances though the music sheet, the same way people dance to each others' feet, and the same way our hearts maintain rhythm for a life time. He is Vice President of the Los Angeles Poet Society, and is a Poet Teacher with California Poets in the Schools, (CPITS), specializing in bilingual education.
