

Mr. Viced Honest

he lived alone in a rent-controlled bungalow and wrote poems he drew poisonous arachnids on the backs of envelopes and scored dope he was one of the most ignored poets in America according to the Los Angeles Free Press Antonin Artaud meets Edgar Allan Poe in a morphine drip dream in distress he had a Zapatista streetsweeper mustache smoked crack in Pyrex glass and signed books for all of his favorite waitresses and baristas he fiended for one in particular from Sweden he called himself a mistake worse than an abortion and reportedly got his first hit of acid from Jim Morrison he said it was a purple wafer the size of a Life Savers he heard from Bukowski ENDURANCE IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN TRUTH he learned from Bukowski SOLITUDE IS KEY AVOID ALL GROUPS he discerned from Bukowski DARK URINE MEANS NOT ENOUGH FLUIDS

Mike Daily

Mike Daily is a novelist and recording artist who performs his work in Portland, Oregon, as vocalist for the experimental fiction rock band, O'GRADY. Daily's new book (and double CD set) ALARM carries on the humorously visual narratives of Mick O'Grady, introduced in his first novel, Valley. www.cdbaby.com/cd/mikedaily