

Things I Say:

W

Anytime you walk into a bathroom and it smells a little too good, you can be sure, it really reeked a little while earlier.

If you had eyes on the back of your head, one thing is for sure: you'd want to cut your hair differently.

Being high on life is great, until your stash runs out.

There's no time like 3:74.

He who is never late probably never has anything better to do than to show up on time.

If you have obsessivecompulsive disorder, you know you've hit rock bottom if you spend eternity worrying that you left the oven on after killing yourself with it.

Live and learn . . . then die and forget.

I'm a monkey's uncle, and it's all my brother's fault.

My life is going nowhere, but that is neither her nor there.

Children should go around wearing missing cartons of milk on their shirts.

X marks the spot . . . the spot between W and Y.

If you get caught with your hand in the cookie jar, you should use it as a weapon . . . then get the hell outta there!

Y

Erik Haber